Visual Communication for the Healthcare Industry

Visual Workplace supports the healthcare industry by visualizing, improving and sustaining a safe, efficient work environment.

In the fast-paced healthcare industry, hospitals continually strive to improve patient safety and quality of care. Implementing a comprehensive safety plan can prevent adverse events and is a regulatory requirement to earn hospital credentials from the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations (JCAHO).

One major part of receiving accreditation from The Joint Commission is to have approved visual communications. Performance boards, huddle boards, lab signs, evacuation signs and wayfinding systems must be up to date and direct staff, patients and visitors alike.

Visual Workplace has the solutions to create information centers, huddle boards, directional signage, floor decals and identification labeling for healthcare needs. Who is my doctor? Who is the patient in this room? Visual Boards and Overlays display room information and charts for verifying information for both patients and staff. Directional signage helps visitors navigate many interconnecting hallways and entrances to eliminate confusion. Floor decals direct patients to registration areas and provide a safety clearance for automatic door swing areas. Labeling is critical for the identification of supply carts and equipment connections during time sensitive procedures and emergencies.

Visual communication tools are integral to healthcare processes and patient safety. Visual Workplace will help you visualize your goals, improve your processes and sustain an efficient healthcare environment.
