Healthcare

In the fast-paced healthcare industry, sharing important information is paramount to providing exceptional service and care. Reaction time and having the supplies you need on hand can be the difference between life and death. Patients need to be informed of which doctor and support staff will be attending to them and how to contact that person if the need arises. Healthcare employees also face many challenges with organizing patient needs. Having correctly labeled and stocked procedure carts, identifying safety hazards, stocking the proper amount of supplies on hand to meet the demands of a fluctuating patient populace and understanding the operation of equipment and connections are just a few of the patient care tasks that need organizational support.

Visual Communications for Healthcare Industry

Visual Workplace has the solutions to create information centers, huddle boards, directional signage, floor decals and defined labeling for healthcare needs. Who is my doctor? Who is the patient in this room? Visual Boards and Overlays display room information and charts for verifying information for both, patient and staff. Directional signage will help visitors navigate many interconnecting hallways and entrances to save confusion. Floor decals will warn patients, visitors and staff of automatic doors and provide a safety clearance for door swing areas or direct patients where to proceed to register. Labeling is critical for the identification of supply carts and equipment connections during time sensitive procedures and emergencies.

Visual communication tools are integral to healthcare processes and patient safety. Visual Workplace will help you Visualize your goals, Improve your processes and Sustain an efficient healthcare environment.
